REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record do not anticipate nor do they reasonably suggest the vertical rotary trimming apparatus as claimed in claims 1 and 13. The closest prior art, Schultz et al (US 2005/0109180), teaches a blade cutting assembly for sheet material comprising many of the claimed elements as noted in the last Office Action. However, Schultz et al lacks a fixer having the ends connected as claimed in claim 1 and the plurality of fixing units and engagement units as claimed in claim 13. In Schultz et al, the fixer is simply a dial that rotates the carrier (48) into positions for the respective cutter. In contrast, the claimed fixer requires a second unit that is connected to the first unit at one end and the other end thereof engages one of the claimed engagement units. With respect to claim 13, another closely related prior art, Franks et al (US 5,927,175), teaches an indexable cutter wherein a plurality of engagement units (110a) are engaged with a plurality of fixing units (notches) to index a single cutter to allow for a different cutting edge portion to be utilized. Upon further consideration, it is the Examiner's opinion that it would not have been obvious to the ordinary artisan to modify Schultz et al with the teachings of Franks et al because Franks et al's teachings requires disassembly of the housing - analogous to the carriage in Schultz et al - to facilitate the indexing. Moreover, none of the other prior art of record fairly teach or suggest these lacking features. Thus, it is believed that the claimed inventions with the lacking features in combination with all the other recited features are allowable over the prior art of record.
